In the music world, “unplugged” means to make music without the use of amplifier: simple, pure, and no electronics. For Hannes Reeh, “unplugged” stands for four single-variety wines – wines that express “Andauer pure and natural” – no influence of the fermentation, no added yeasts or enzymes, no cosmetics to cover up the wines. These wines are authentic. And in particularly good years, they are bottled even without undergoing filtration.

The Chardonnay Unplugged exudes scents of flowers and juicy pears with light hints of nuts. The palate is smooth and creamy. The Chardonnay Unplugged is an ideal companion to dishes with strong sauces and light meats.
