Wine is like music to us – so that's why we've borrowed a term from the world of music for our wines: unplugged. Unplugged means making music without any electronic amplification. It's simple, pure music, the kind you would listen to around a campfire. And the wines in our Unplugged range are just as straight and pure

For the Unplugged X, our beloved Unplugged varieties were cuvée'd - wines from older stocks that promise high quality and a dense aroma. The result is a completely independent cuvée. A fluid figurehead that turns every moment into a very special one. (In Germany and Benelux: Rohstoff)
